

Happy Friday everyone!

Well, that was a busy week!

Yesterday we had a lovely visit from the Vicar at St George's Church, James Sawyer. He came to talk about Harvest and how the kind food donations from you all will be used in the coming weeks. The church collected donations from the village, which were displayed in the church at the service on Sunday before being donated to the Buntingford Food Bank. It was wonderful to hear that the donations from the school made up the largest proportion of the church's donations to the food bank. Their thank you card was lovely:

With grateful thanks to the parishioners of St George's Church Anstey
for their kind donations to the Food Bank at Harvest Festival.
They will be very much appreciated

Thank you

This week we are sending big congratulations to:

Kate in Wise Owls for her responsible attitude and kindness to everyone.

Austin in Little Owls for his tremendous writing- using excellent vocabulary and grammar!

Beau in Fledglings for excellent engagement and contributions in topic.

Well done to you all – a marble in the jar for all your fantastic hard work!

We have 68 marbles so far. Our target is 80 for this half term to have a reward afternoon of board games. Nearly there – keep up all the wonderful effort everyone!
